

THE WORLD'S NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

Andrew Carnegie, who is 74 today, was one of the first visitors at Bigelow's home to extend congratulations.

John F. Dryden, former U. S. senator, died last night.

Guiseppe Sicurelli, N. Y., has applied to police to help him find his left ear. Guiseppe lost it during an argument with neighbor.

Two of four concerns which are to carry on business of American Tobacco Co., incorporated at Trenton, N. J., today. Capital of one, $36,800,200, of other, $26,463,200. Haw, haw! Ho, ho! Yo-ooh!

Donkey stole comedy "business" in performance of Il Pagliacci at N. Y. Was to draw Caruso across stage. Laid down on job. Maybe the donk knew it was Caruso.

Cardinal Designate Falconi was informed by the Pope today that he would be made dean of the American cardinals.

Head waiter at Sherry's got reckless and asked society woman to stop smoking. "Stop me if you can," said she. He couldn't.

25 dead have been found in ruins of oil cake mills of J. Bibby & Sons, Liverpool, which blew up yesterday.

Truancy officer, Racine, Wis., went to home of Andrew Jensen to find out why children were not at school. Found family near death from asphyxiation. They will recover.

A. W. McDavit, dentist, San Bernardino, Cal., found guilty of abducting Jessie McDonald, high school girl, and holding her prisoner for year. McDavit came near being lynched in court room when he laughed out loud during prosecutor's arraignment of him.

Score injured in head-on collision between trolley cars on Grand Island road, Baileysville, Kan.

Yes, Andy, and there are old men who draw other people's money into their pockets and never let go of it again.

Warrant was sworn out at Cleveland for steamer and tug, charging both vessels with assault because they bumped into third boat. Offenders have been arrested.

Carl Geary, 4 years old, Connelville, Pa., inhaled steam from tea kettle. It's sad for the parents.

President Taft denies he intends to accept challenge of progressives and submit to presidential primary in Ohio. Nobody thought he would.

50,000 German metal workers struck for higher wages today.

Gunga Din's garb, which was "nothin' much before an' 'arf of that be'ind" has been outdone at New York horse show. Ambitious member of "400" appeared in diaphanous gown transparent below knees and not very opaque above.

Avis Sarah Johnson, novelist who was writing history of Beattie murder, died a few minutes after Beattie was executed.

Potato Shank, mayor of Indianapolis, put 150 corn fed